

Society of Spanish Researchers
in the United Kingdom

SRUK/CERU survey on Brexit for Spanish researchers and scientists outside the UK

Table summaries of the results to the survey run from the 15th May 2018 to the 7th July 2018

11 September 2018

sciencepolicy@sruk.org.uk

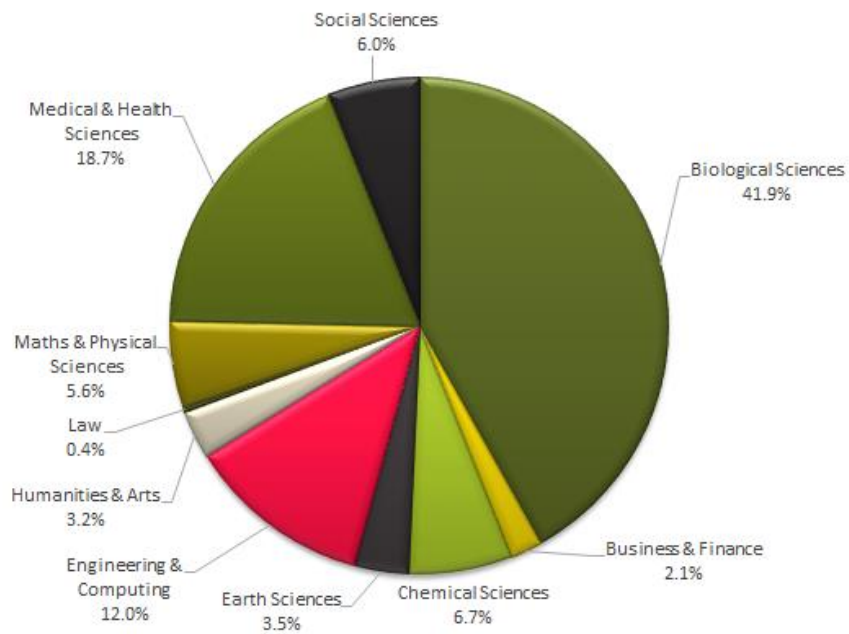

The total number of participants is 284

The following charts depict the percentage of participants per answer

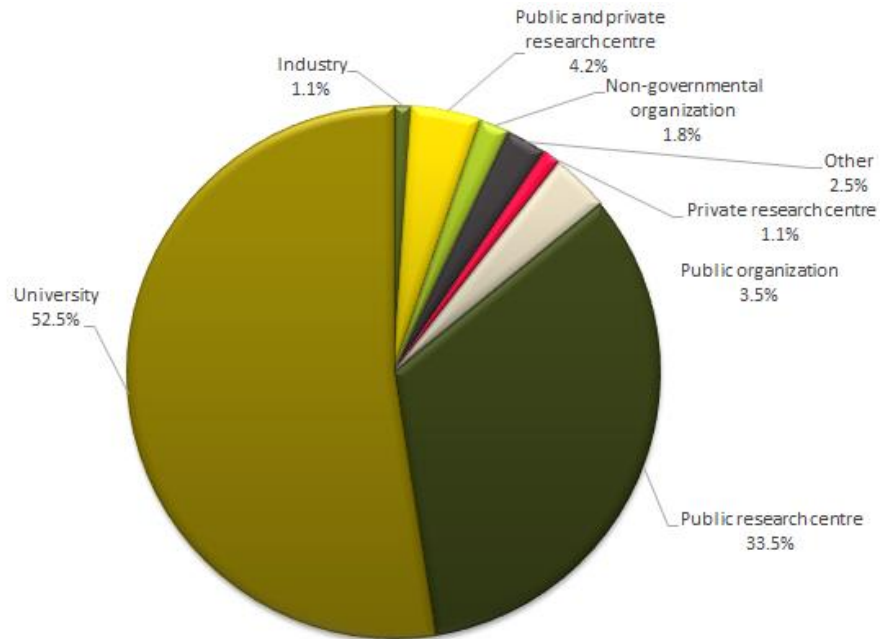

1) Please indicate the country where you are currently working or your main institution is based

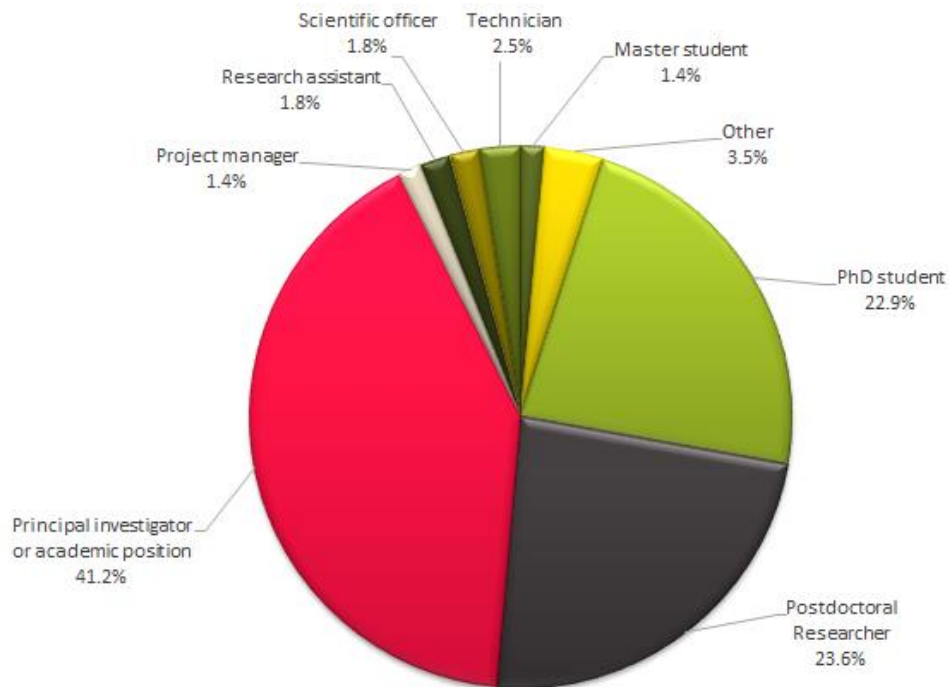

2) Please, indicate your main discipline

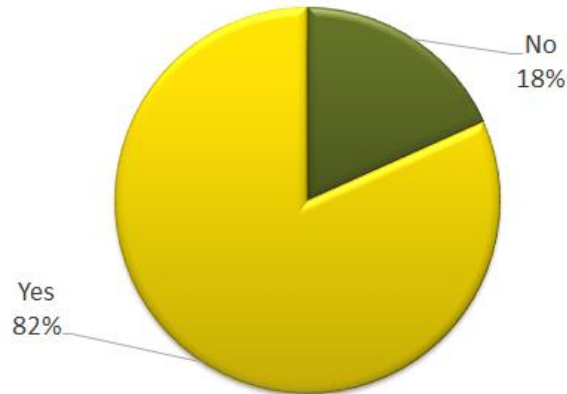

3) Please, indicate the type of centre or institution where you work

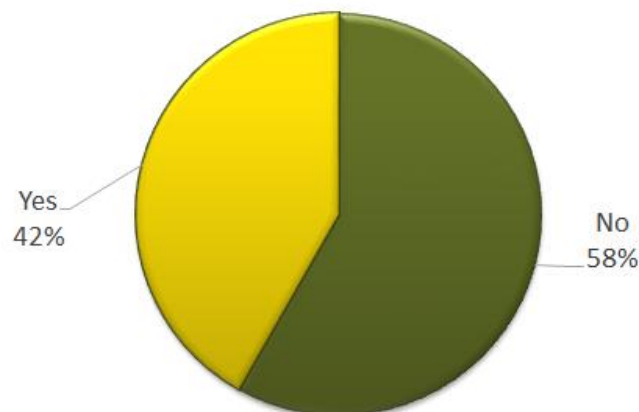

4) Please, indicate your current (or last) position

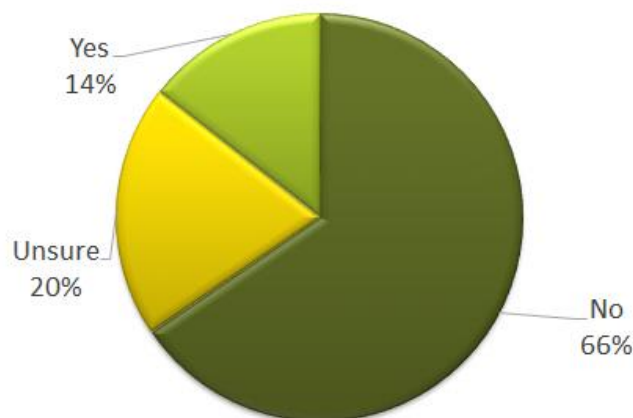

5) Have you ever studied or worked as a researcher (or are you currently studying or working as a researcher) outside Spain?

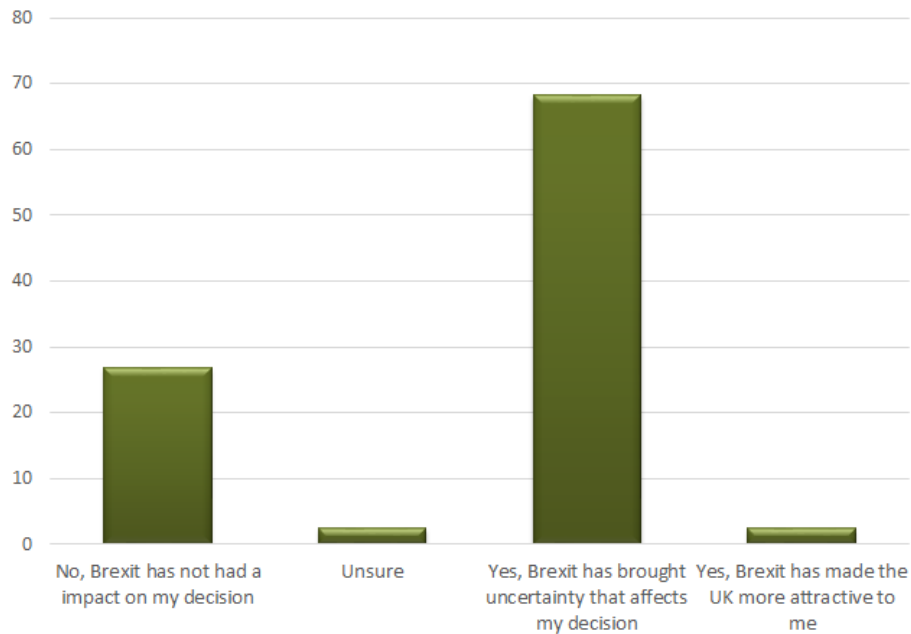

6) If you answered “Yes” to the question 5, is the United Kingdom within the countries you have studied or worked as a researcher?

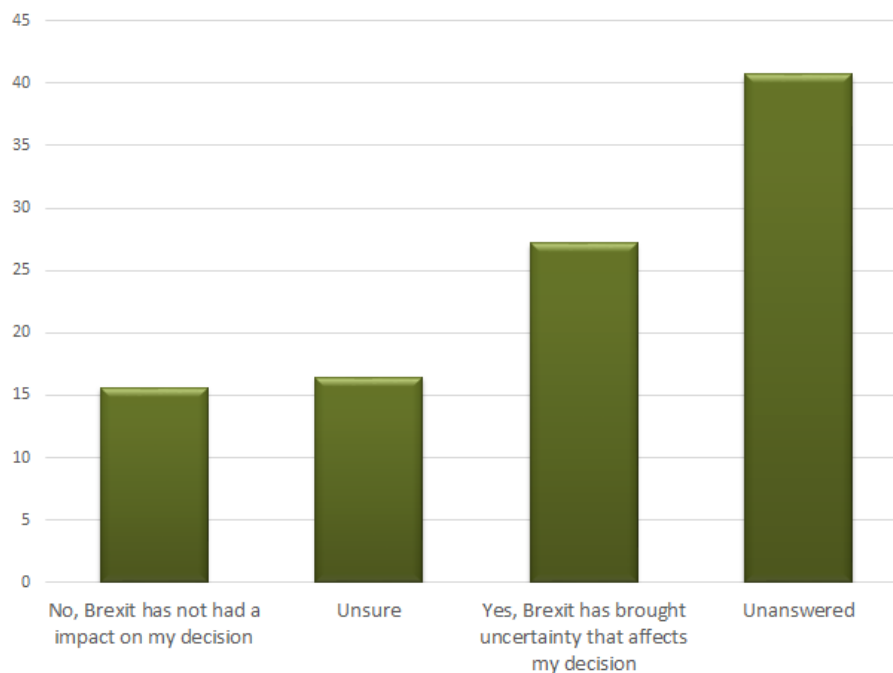

7) Are you considering moving to the United Kingdom in the next two years?

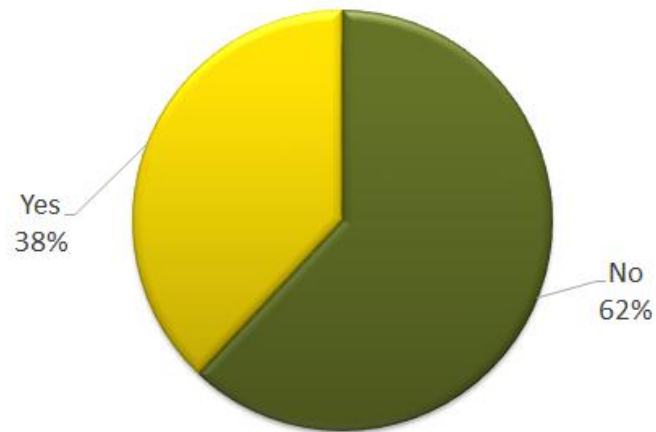

8) If your answer to 7 was “Yes”, has Brexit impacted your decision-making process?

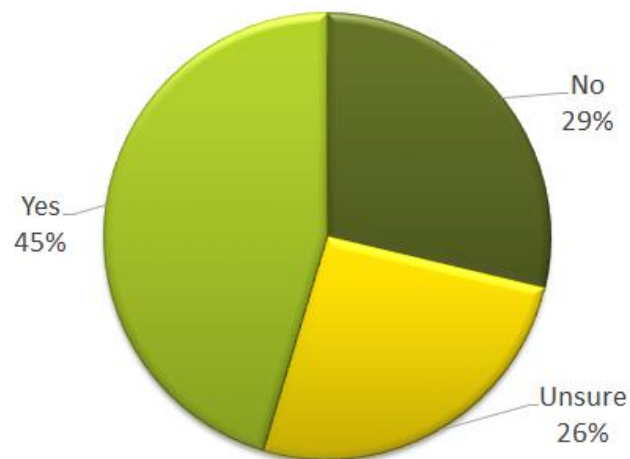

9) If your answer to 8 was “No”, has Brexit impacted your decision-making process?

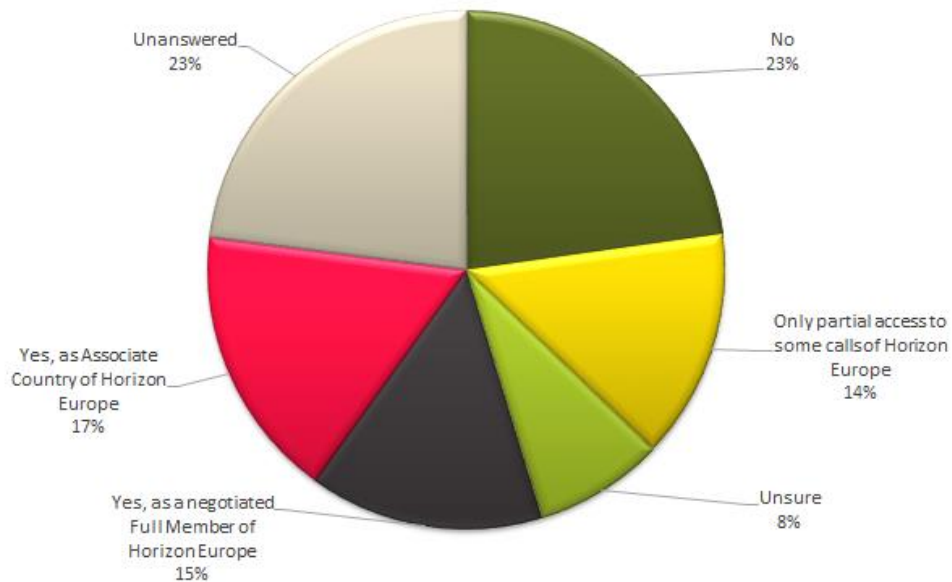

10) Are you currently collaborating with any institution in the UK?

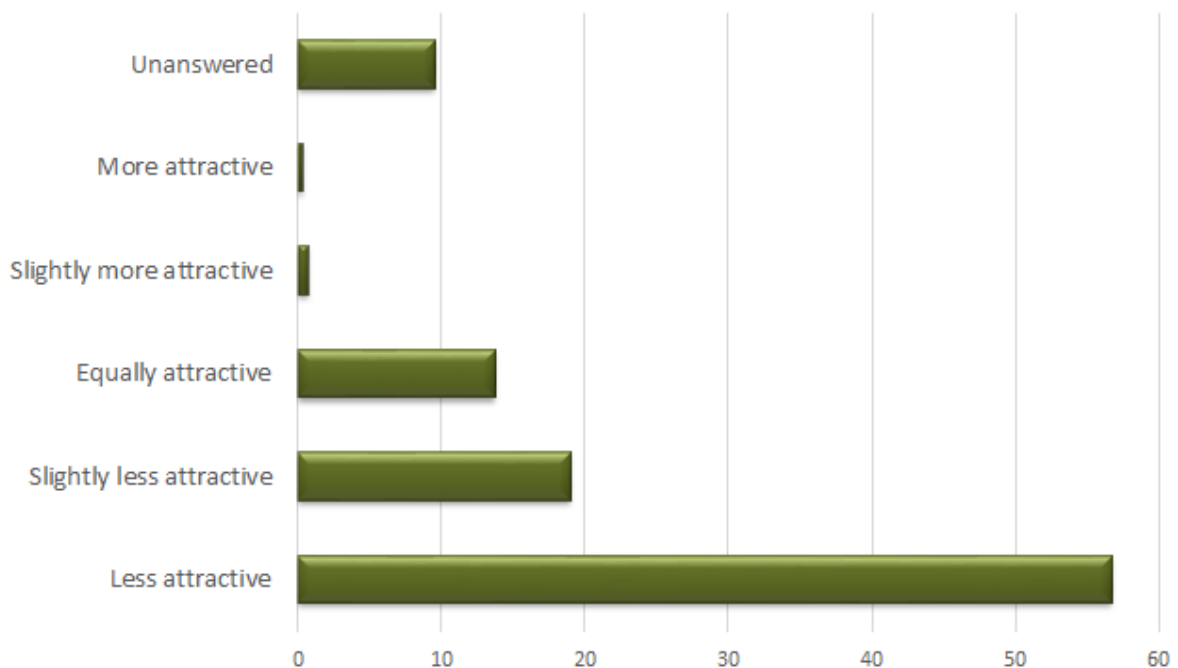

11) If you answered Yes to 10, do you think that Brexit will affect such collaborations?

12) In your opinion, should the United Kingdom retain access to Horizon Europe (i.e., the new EU Framework Programme for Research and Innovation that will start in 2021, sometimes referred to as FP9)?

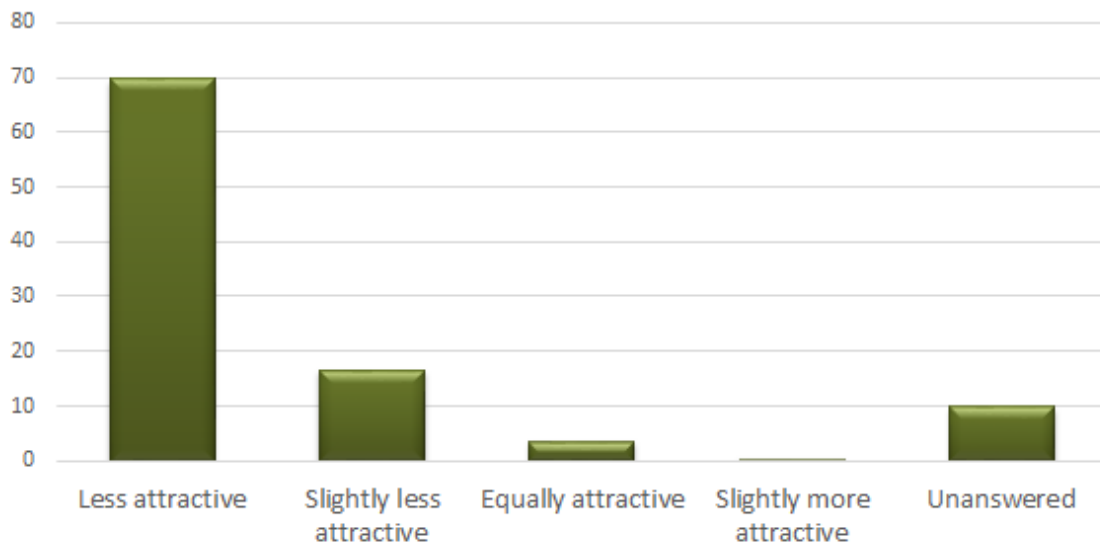

13) Overall, from your perspective, how attractive is the United Kingdom now that the country is going through Brexit (compared to what your perspective was before the EU referendum)?

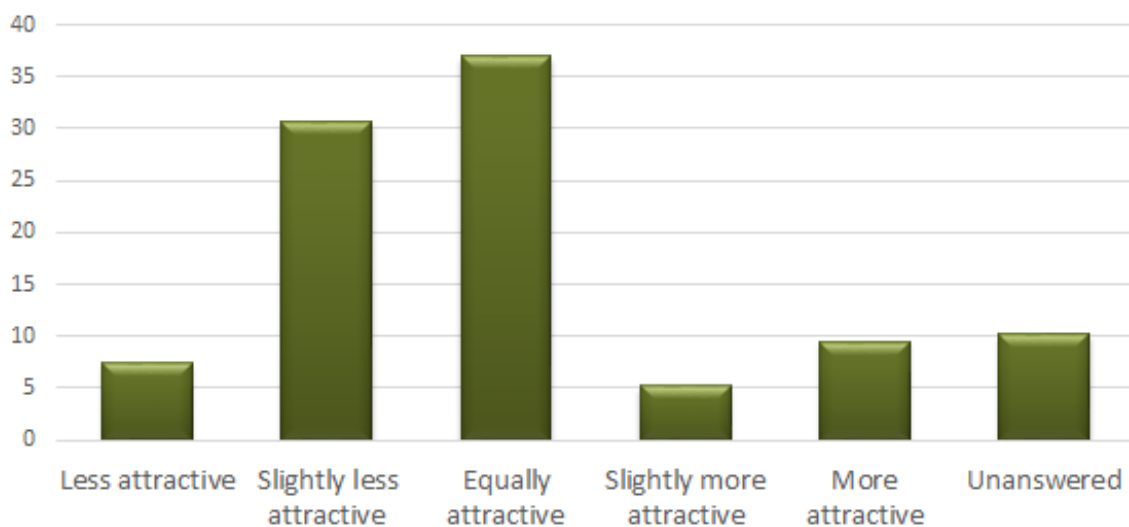

14) In these specific scenarios, from your perspective, how attractive would the United Kingdom be after Brexit (compared to what your perspective was before the EU referendum)?

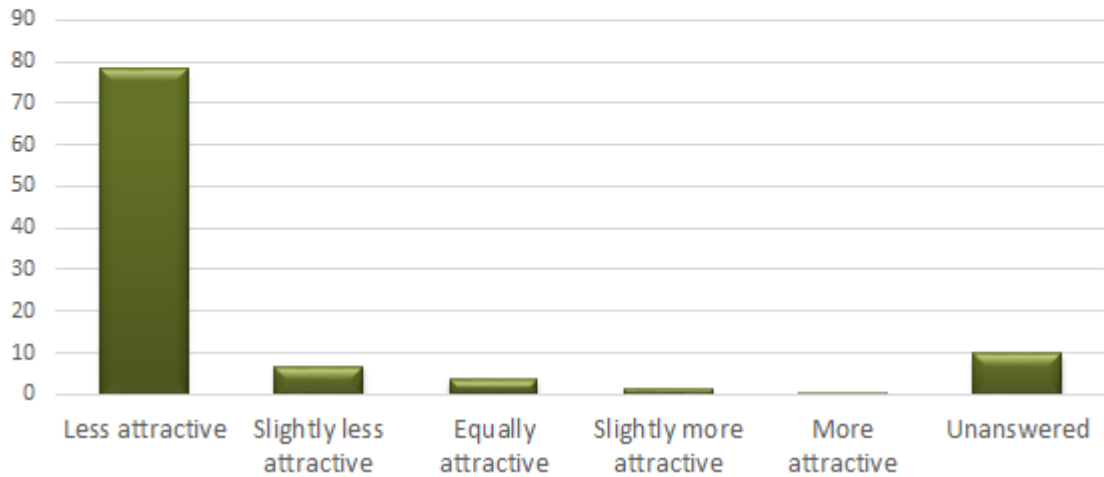

UK remains in Horizon Europe but the movement of european workers and their families is hindered by bureaucratic means (need to apply for visa, lengthy process etc...)

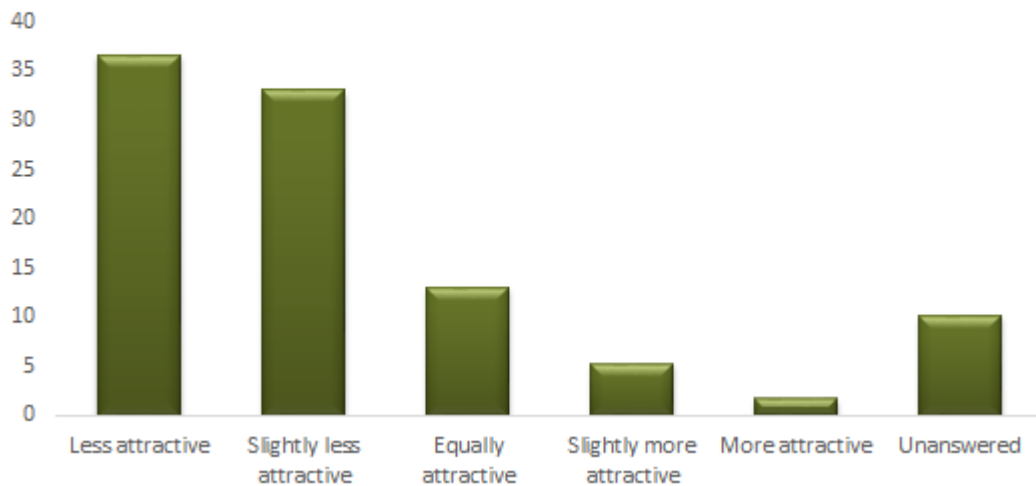

UK remains in Horizon Europe and the movement of european workers and their families is an easy and straightforward process

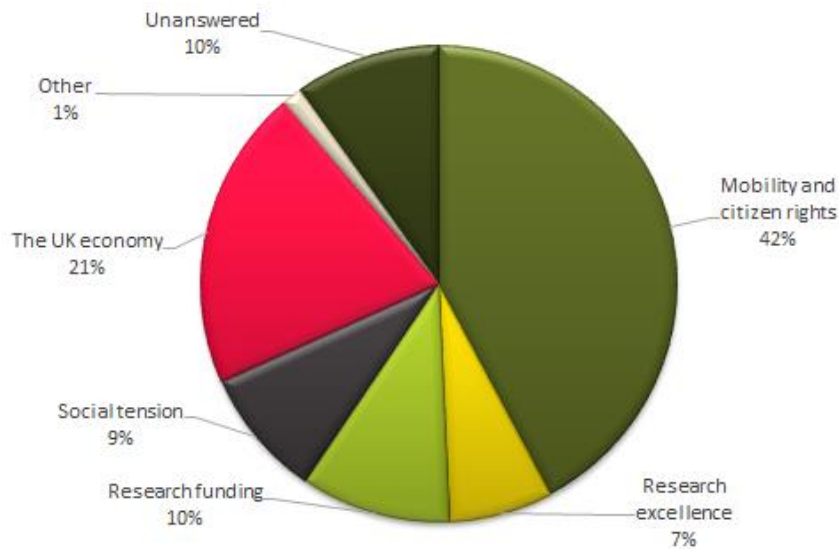

UK does not have access to Horizon Europe and the movement of european workers and their families is hindered by bureaucratic means (need to apply for visa, lengthy process etc...)

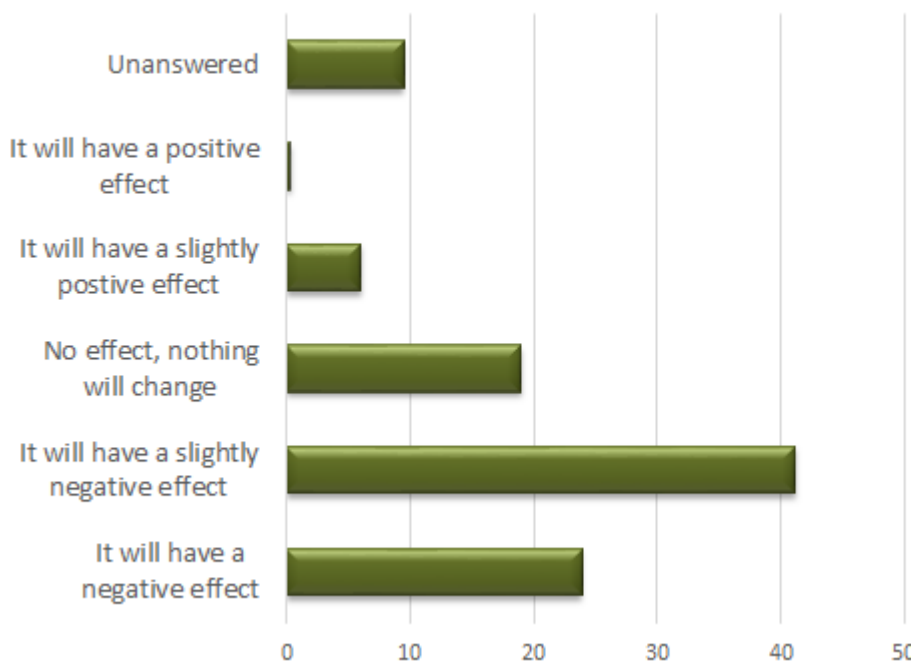

UK does not have access to Horizon Europe but the movement of european workers and their families is an easy and straightforward process

15) From your perspective, what is the area that will be most affected by Brexit in the United Kingdom? (Only one option)

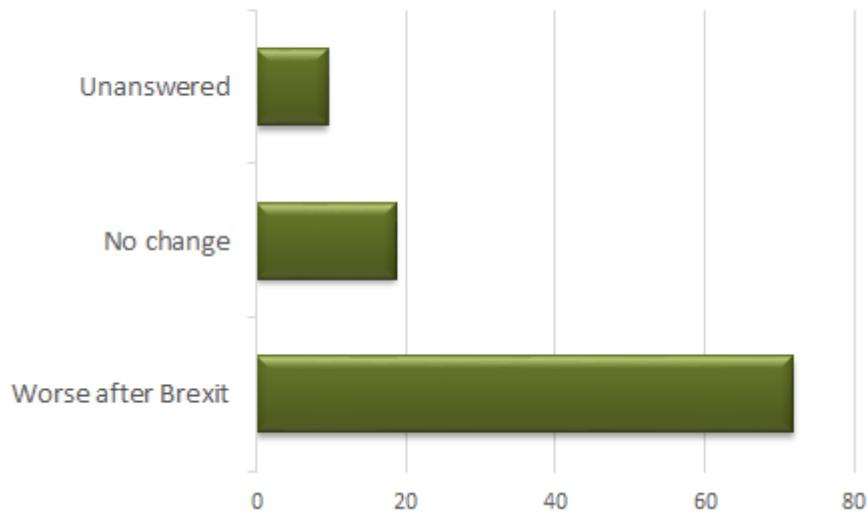

16) From your perspective, how will Brexit affect research in the rest of the European Union?

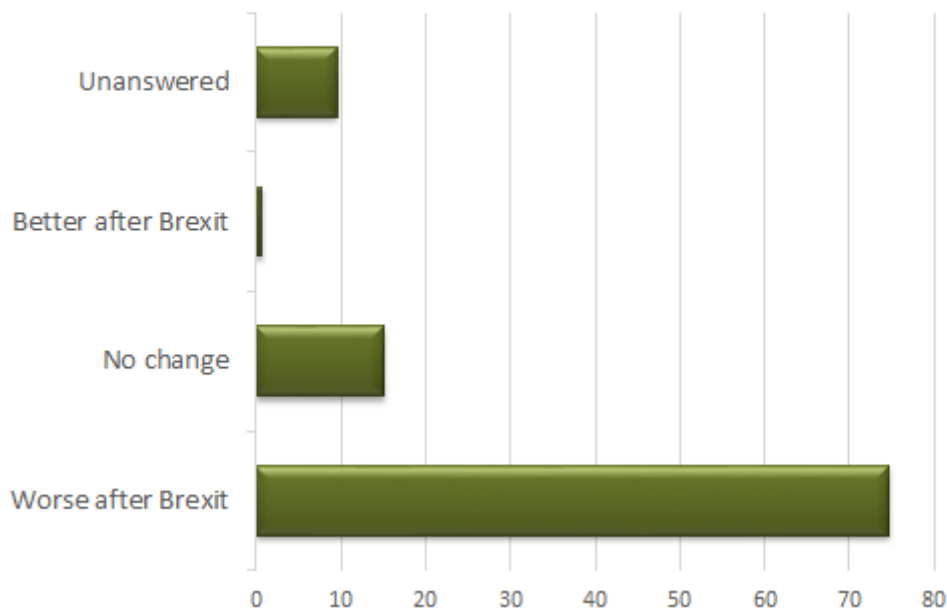

17) What areas (and how) will be affected by Brexit in the rest of the EU?

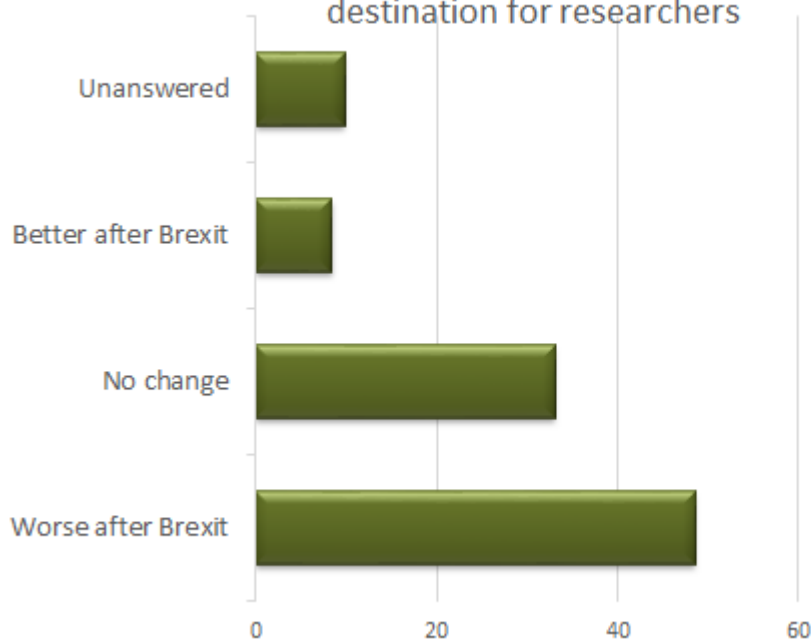

Opportunities for research visits to the UK

Opportunities for collaboration with the UK

Attractiveness of the European Union as a whole as a destination for researchers

Access to funds in the rest of the EU

